Having graduated from few of the most prestigious Teaching Institutions, it has instilled in me the confidence to manage a wide variety of cases, to handle any unique situation and an inclination towards teaching. I feel there is a lot to explore in Rheumatology. What drives me is that every case is different though the diagnosis may be same. I am very interested in the area of Vasculitis as I find it challenging. It is a domain where the patient gives you less time for diagnosis and the right treatment will create wonders. Another domain that intrigues me is Lupus. As the common saying goes "To know Lupus is to know medicine" and I strongly believe that treating Lupus will never let u forget Medicine.
